This Day is issued, price 10s. 6d.,

THE HIERACIA of NORTH YORKSHIRE & TEESDALE;
 A Series of Dried Specimens, mounted in Fasciculi; arranged after the ‘Monograph’ of Fries. They will each include specimens of all the forms (twenty-one in number) of which a sufficient supply could be procured within the limits of the district. They have been formed in the hope of circulating information respecting the correct nomenclature of the English species, more exactly than it can be conveyed by written descriptions, and supplying a series for reference and comparison.

Lists and Prospectuses may be procured on application to the Editor, JOHN GILBERT BAKER, Thirsk; or the Publisher, W. PAMPLIN, Frith Street, Soho Square, London; to either of whom Subscribers’ names may be forwarded, and Money Orders made payable.

Erratum.—Upon the Wrapper of last month’s ‘Phytologist’ there is a misprint in Mr. Pamplin’s Advertisement, “Various Works of Ray,” &c. It should have been £1 10s., and not £1.
